Leírás

Since 1996 the associated companies activate on integrated engineering of biomass by it dynamical biocatalytical synthesis , processing, bioenergetical and biotechnological conversion based on waste to energy, pollution,natural resources to biomass and high value added biotechnological products with enhanced circular economy serving the climate-environment-health protection.The engineering acrivity is completed by energetical auditing, testing laboratory, R+D+I and education activity for students and PhD candidates.

The associated Hungarian R+D+I SMEs(AHUSME) offers their developed system-an integrated, innovative sustainable complex industrial establishment of climate-, environment-, health protection ,bio industrial (bioenergy, biofuels, biotechnological) products- for implementation. The engineering system is adaptable to specific local conditions (pollutants, wastes, water, weather, capacities, desired products).cooperation
